The chief lesson taught by the FLACE case is not to be allowed to go unheeded. "I think," said Judge BARRETT yesterday, that I shall favor abolishing the referee system, and shall advise climinating the ele ment of secrecy from every phase of divorce proceedings. I think it would be far better to try the cases openly, and trust to the good taste and high-mindedness of our journalists not to publish details which would be in jurious to public morals. I shall so savise when the Judges get back."

Judge BARRETT's ground is safe and wisely chosen. There is a code of newspaper propriety. To all seeming it is as binding as the obligation which rests upon judges and referees, whose chief function in these cases appears to be often that of "secrecy." And the newspaper code does not need the fortification of an oath of office, either.

Sixty-five Bishops in Lawn Sleeves City and County and Legislative Nomi-March in Procession to St. George's Church.

The triennial General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America began its sessions this morning in St. George's Church, Sturtevant Square.

The governing body of the Episcopal Church consists of the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies. The House of Bishops has sixty clergymen who hold their sessions in secret. The House of Deputies is a much larger body, containing about four hundred members.

Each diocese sends four clerical and four lay deputies. There were deputies present from the following States: Alabams, Arkansas, California, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut. Delaware, North Carolina, Florida, Michigan, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Lonisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts. Minuseota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont and Virginia.

The Convention will continue in daily session.

Saturdays excepted, beginning at 10.30 in the morning, for two or three weeks. There are several matters of importance which will demand the attention of the assembled elergymen and laymen. One very interesting one concerns the composition of the Convention irelf.

For some time the Church press has been discussing "Proportional Representation." It is claimed that a minority can stifle the voice of the majority in the House of Deputies, as well as block legislation. Matters touching the most essential well-being of the Church could be settled and decided upon by this minority acting with a bare majority of the Bishops.

It is not urged that such action has ever bean taken, nor that it is likely to occur, but it is argued that a form of government which admits of such a possibility is a had one, at least, thus far, and should be changed.

Liturgiest revision will also come in for con-thus far, and should be changed.

Liturgical revision will also come in for considerable discussion. This is a matter which was treated of by a special committee in 1883; and in 1886; and changes were decided on with a view to secure the liturgical enrichment of the Book of Common Prayer and help to greater exactitude in ritual observance.

These have been practically in use since, but it is desired to have the Convention of 1889 recognize them.

The Hymnal will also receive a good deal of attention.

The Hymnal will also receive a good deal of attention.

While these points argue a desire to conform more clovely to English form in service, the name of "Protestant Entecoral," which is used in America, instead of the "Church of England," of the United Kingdom, "is objectionable to many, who say the church should be called "the American Church."

As usual, the missionary work of the church both at home and abroad will be diligently reviewed.

The question of colored clergy representing their parishes in conventions on the same footing as white clergymen is very likely to call for some adjustment on the occasion of this convention.

nations Next in Order.

With the completion of the labors of the Democratic Convention at Syracuse the State campaign may be said to have begun in earnest. The political pot will boil vigorously for the next month, for the campaign, though a more than ordinarily brief one, will call forth the utmost efforts of the two great parties.

On hundreds of banners in every Assembly district of the city will shortly appear the fol-For Secretary of State-FRANK RICE, of Can-Attorney-General—Charles F. Tabor, of

For Judge of the Court of Appeals—Denis O'Bhirs, of Watertown.

The nomines for Secretary of State, Frank Bies, is in his forty-fourth year. He is a graduate of Hamilton College, and has practised law since 1879. He has twice been riceted District Attorney in Ropublican Ontario County, and in 1882 was victoriously elected to the Assembly by a surprising majority. After rotiring from legislative life he was chosen County Judge in 1884, a position which he still holds. He has been a member of the Democratic State Committee from the Twesty-nicht Congressional District since hast Spring. While in the Assembly Mr. Bice acquired a reputation as a ready and hard-fighting debater. He was then and still is an admirer of ex-President Cleveland. Edward Wemple, renominated for Computable, was born in 1843. He has been Town Supervisor of Fultonville, chairman of the Democratic General Committee, twice member of the Assembly, a member of the Forty-eighth Congress and State Senator. He is a manufacture.

Congress and State Senator. He is a manufacturer.

Charles F, Tabor, renominated for Attorney-General, is a prominent lawyer in Buffalo. Previous to 1887, when he was elected to his present office, he was Deputy State Attorney-General. He was born in Michigan forty-eight years ago, but came to Eric County with his parents when two years old. He has been County Commissioner of Exci-e, Supervisor and the candidate of his party for County Judge.

Elliott F, Danforth, nominee for State Treasurer, was born in Middleburg, Schobarie County, in 1850. He is the youngest son of Judge Peter S. Danforth, of Middleburg, and was admitted to the Bar in 1871. In 1860 he was a delegate to the National Demorate Convention at Cincinnati, and was its youngest member. He was also a delegate to the Convention of 1884, In 1880 he was nominated as the candidate for Congress from his district, but he declined the honor. At the same time his name was presented as a candidate for the nomination for State Treasurer, and he received a very strong support. When Lawrence J. Flizgerald became State Treasurer, in 1885, Mr. Danforth was appointed Deputy State Treasurer, an office which he still holds. Mr. Danforth is one of the directors and also the attorney of the First National Bank of Bambridge, and a member of its Board of Education.

John Bogart, renominated for State Engineer and Surveyor, is about fifty years old. He was born in Albany. For years he has been Secretary of the American Society of Civil Engineers. In 1854 Mr. Bogard did highly praised work in the enlargement of the Eric Canal and is a well-known sanitary engineer. His skill is shown in the large public parks in Chicago, Albany, Syracuse and Brooklyn, by which cities he has been employed. During the war he had charge of the Court of Appeals, was born in Ogdensburg in 1837. After receiving a common school education he studied has in May, 1861. Subsequently he became a resident of Watertown. He made an unsuccessful run as candidate for Diatrict Attorney of Jefferson County in Charles F. Tabor, renominated for Attorney-

The great body of active Democratic workers canvassed the doings of the Convention with en-thuliasm and predicted victory along the line. It was conceeded to be a Hill victory, in which neither the County Democracy nor Tanjaany Hall had any share but members of best fac-tions reputitates the idea of any host-lite.

They said New York finished its fight when the nominations were made and that all would work heartily for the success of the ticket.

There are two cases in which the Sheriff may be provented from exercising his functions. The first is the case of conviction under the indict-under indictment is where he forfeits his bail bond and escapes from the jurisdiction of the court.

In a case where a bail bond is forfeited by a nerson under indictment, the practice is for the District-Attorney immediately to enter Indigment in the court where the bond was given against the sureties, and then get an order of execution against them from the Court of Common Pleas.

This execution is directed to the Sheriff, but on the supposition that Mr. Flack should be the absconding party it would be impossible to take this step.

'The question naturally solves itself," said a well-known lawyer this morning. 'In order that such a state of affairs as the one supposed should arise it would be necessary that the Sheriff should have run away.'

'In that case his office would be declared vacant and the execution could be directed to the new Sheriff, whom the Governor would undoubtedly immediately appoint.'

Judge Monell's bail bond for $5,000 was filed by Clerk Penney to-day.

Nothing has yet been learned in regard to the whoreabouts of Miss Sarah Cherry, and Detective Van Gerichten, who has the warrant for her arrest in his inside pocket, says he does not know where to go to look for her.

Cel. Fellows said this morning that he was not ready yet to outline his plans for the prosecution of the defendants, but said that they would probably all be tried together in the big conspiracy indictment. There would be no separation of the cases.

All the indicted persons except Hart are included in this conspilacy indictment.

Judge Gildersleeve at noon to-day discharged the Grand Jury, which was engaged in the investigation of the Flack divorce conspiracy, with words of high compliment.

He said in substance that the extra labor which had been imposed this term uroon the Grand Jury, and the important calls which had been made upon their time and attention, called for more than the usual recognition for good services generally accorded to grand Jures.

It was said early in the day that a force of laborers engaged in putting up a structure on West Forty-fifth street, the contractor for which leals with the boycotted firm of Peck, Martin & Co., would be ordered out by the Board of Walking Delegates.

This afternoon the Building Material Exchange will hold a meeting to discuss the strike. The Board of Delegates and Mr. J. M. Cornell, of the firm of J. B. & J. M. Cornell, mannfacturers of iron work for buildings, met yesterday and after a conference it was agreed that the Union men would abide by Mr. Corneli's decision, no matter what it might be.

Mr. Cornell agreed to make such terms with Peck, Martin & Co., the building material dealers, against whom the strikes were directed, as would be satisfactory and for the best interests of all concerned.

It was understood that Peck, Martin & Co. agree to offer ne objection or opposition to union men, and make no discrimination against them and will not oppose the joining of the unloas by their employes if the latter desire to unions by their employes if the latter desire to become members.

This may scon bring about a fortunate and unexpected eading of what promised to be a coloseal strike on all the buildings supplied by Peck, Martin & Co. with materials, or a lockout of all hands on all the new buildings in the city. Work on the Wilkes building, at Broadway and Wall street; the Union Trust Company's building, in Leonard and Baxter streets, was almost entirely suspended this forenoon, a few bricklayers and laborers only being engaged on the walls.
